The college, as per the recommendations of the NAAC in the first cycle, started the existing mentoring system of the students in a more structured way. All the students of the institution are assigned to the different teachers or mentors. A notice is issued initially which reflects the allocation of the students under different teachers i.e. mentors. The mentor along with the students under his/her supervision assemble in a meeting where the students or mentees speak about their problems related to academics. Apart from this, they are also given opportunities to mention the difficulties and problems they are facing related to infrastructure and learning resources. In fact, the students also represent their personal problems to the mentors. The mentors always help the students in the form of counselling and personal interaction, both in formal and informal ways. The problems and difficulties mentioned by the students are registered in the formal way. Afterwards a follow-up meeting between the students and their mentors are organised where the actions taken are discussed. Obviously all the problems can not be solved due to the shared building. However, the institution sincerely addresses the problems mentioned by the students.

2.5.2 – Reforms initiated on Continuous Internal Evaluation(CIE) system at the institutional level (250 words)

Before the introduction of the CBCS system, college adhered to the continuous evaluation system at the institutional level. The half-yearly examinations were taken and on the basis of the results of the students, they were provided with remedial classes if required. Finally, the selection tests were organised by the institution and on the basis of the results of the examinations, students were allowed to sit for the part-I, II and III examinations organised by University of Calcutta. Apart from these examinations, the teachers often took class tests to review the performance of the students. After the introduction of the CBCS system, the students have to maintain their regular attendance in the classes. Apart from this, they have to sit for internal examinations in B.A/B.Sc/B.Com examinations and tutorial examinations in B.A/B.Sc examinations. The institution, along with the examination committee, maintains a sound mechanism to conduct this internal evaluation system smoothly. The continuous meetings of the examination committee are organised in order to implement the changes in the examination system associated with the CBCS curriculum and examination structure. The examinations based on multiple choice questions, short questions are introduced in order to maintain the compatibility with the new CBCS system.

2.5.3 – Academic calendar prepared and adhered for conduct of Examination and other related matters (250 words)

Previously, the college undertook the responsibilities of arranging the half-yearly examinations and the selection tests for the final examinations organised by University of Calcutta. The college announced the date of examinations prior to the university examinations. Now the University of Calcutta has announced the dates or the time spans, for conducting internal and tutorial examinations. Hence the dates of internal examinations and tutorial examinations can not be mentioned accurately in the academic calendar. Moreover, the actual dates of the semester examinations can not be mentioned accurately in the academic calendar. However our college mentions the tentative dates of the examinations, both internal and tutorial, in the academic calendar. Apart from this, the tentative dates of the summer and winter recess, Puja vacations, different cultural and sports activities are also mentioned in the academic calendar.
